Travis Mathis Ousts Nunn as Deputy Here

Prosecuting Attorney Travis Mathis today said he had revoked the deputyship of C. V. Nunn Jr., of Hope who has served as deputy prosecutor in this county since Mr. Mathis was first elected to the office.

In making the announcement today, Mr. Mathis said the reason for making a change is "because Mr. Nunn has too many things to do and these other interests keep him from devoting enough time to the deputy prosecutor's office."

Mr. Mathis said he hadn't named a successor to Mr. Nunn as yet but would do so prior to municipal court, Monday, August 19.

Mr. Nunn declined to comment.

Letter Cost Increase May Fail in Senate

By VINCENT J. BURKE

WASHINGTON (UP) — House-passed administration bill boosting the cost of mailing a letter one cent today headed for almost certain cold storage in the Senate.

The House passed the half-billion-dollar-a-year bill on a 256-129 roll call last night with almost solid GOP support.

But the Senate was expected not to act on it this year although it appeared certain to pass bills boosting the pay of postal and other federal workers. Republicans have predicted President Eisenhower will veto the pay raise bills.

The postal rate bill would raise the cost of first class mail one cent class mail one penny—requiring a four-cent stamp on regular letters, a seven-cent stamp on air mail and a three-cent stamp on post cards.

Second, third and fourth class mail rates also would be raised, increasing the cost of mailing newspapers and magazines, advertising matter and books.

The House also adopted an amendment to limit the second-class mail "subsidy" received by any publication to $100,000 a year. It was approved by a toller vote of 171 to 147.

Some members said the proposal would have a crippling impact on many national publications since second class rates traditionally have been far below actual mailing costs.

The subsidy-limiting amendment was offered by Rep. George M. Rhodes (D-Pa.) after Rep. Chet Hollifield (D-Cal.) charged that subsidies have amounted to $8,310,000 for Life magazine, $6,097,000 for the Saturday Evening Post and $4,172,000 for Readers Digest.

The 127-vote margin by which the House approved the bill compares with the 52-vote margin by which a similar measure passed the House last year, only to die in the Senate. Backers felt this meant there was a good chance that the Senate would go along with some rate increases next year.

Mao Reported Ready to Step Out in China

HONG KONG (UP) — Red China's Chairman Mao Tse-tung, for more than 20 years the guiding light of Chinese communism, has told the Chinese people he is tired and ready to step aside, a traveler from the mainland says.

This report by a Chinese businessman, designated either Premier Chou En-lai or Vice Chairman Liu Shao-chi to succeed him, He said Mao made the statement as part of his February speech to the Supreme State Council in which he urged that a campaign of criticism be conducted free of bitterness on the part of Communists.

The source said to head Mao's voice, with its broad Hunan accent, in the 4½-hour tape recording form in which it originally was taken down nearly six months ago.

NEW YORK (UP) — Most swimmers will encounter a shark merely and you are the stranger and intruder in his house.

"Above all, don't panic. If you lurch in the water violently trying to get away, you may excite him and cause him to attack."

"If a barracuda insists on coming too close, you can turn and swim toward him and he'll go away—999,999 times out of a million."

"If a shark comes too close, put your head under water and yell as loud as you can. 'Go away, you bum! Get lost!' he can't hear you, but he can feel the vibrations."

During another visit, she said,

Harrison and Miss Quillan discussed a movie star that he had seen sort of lead on—an actress."

How can a swimmer escape if he encounters a shark or barracuda near shore?

"The chance is, if you meet one of these big fish near shore, he is well fed and merely curious at seeing you," said Tassos.

"The main thing to do is to avoid irritating him. How do you keep him calm? By staying calm yourself. The simplest thing to do is keep your eyes on him and swim toward shore, slowly and easily."

41 Americans Defy U.S., Will Make Tour of China

By STERLING SLAPPEY

Hope Night Sunday at Campground

"Hope Night" will be observed Sunday evening, August 18 at Davidson Campground near Okolona. Just before the Moscow-Peking trans-Siberian express train pulled out, two Americans with leave from the trip. Two others said they might decide later to catch up with the group by flying to Peking.

Jake Rosen, New York, leader of the group and organizer for the trip to the Communist-sponsored Moscow youth festival, said he would go to Peking by way of Kiev where he would first attend another Communist sponsored youth meeting.

The U. S. State Department had issued a strong warning that the trip might violate the law. This resulted in an anxious 2½ hour meeting by the Americans early in the day. Several were then wavering among the 46 who originally planned to make the trip to Peking.

The State Department told them Tuesday in a letter from Undersecretary Christian Herter that their passports would be taken from them if they made the journey.

The United States has no diplomatic relations with Communist China and considers itself in a "quasi state of war" with the Mao Tse-tung government.

Dan O'Connell of Chicago said as the train left the station, "We have six days aboard before we reach the Red Chinese border and there are some here who may change their minds and get off."

A crowd of Russians swarmed over the station platform as the well-equipped train prepared to leave. Dozens of bunches of flowers were thrown through the windows of the American compartment.

Twenty-one cars of a Missouri Pacific freight train derailed north of here when the train hit a portion of tracks weakened by the downpour.

No injuries were reported.

Paragould, Marmaduke, Lake and Rector were hit by the downpour, which was measured at 6.6 inches here and estimated as high as 12 inches a few miles at the north.

Some schools here closed for the day. School buses were unable to negotiate flooded highways.

One family reportedly was stranded on top of a house near an overflowing creek and several families were evacuated at Marmaduke, about 12 miles to the north.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Tarrell near Paragould was destroyed by fire after lightning struck about midnight just before the rainstorm.

The heavy rainfall, similar to storms which struck a large area of northwest Arkansas early yesterday apparently was limited to the northeast corner of the state.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Tarrell near Paragould was destroyed by fire after lightning struck about midnight just before the rainstorm.

The Americans were rollicksome at the station. Los Angeles' Guy Cravatt and Peggy Seeger played and sang "America the Beautiful."

Starfish, Los Angeles, and Richard Sherman, Chicago, with drew entirely from the trip and declined to give a reason. Sherman seemed highly nervous.

David and Albert Maysles, brothers from Boston, said at the last moment they would not go but "might fly out and catch the group later."

Heiter said those making the trip might be violating the U. S. Trading With the Enemy Act, adding, "This constitutes a criminal offense under our law."

He coupled the net with a State Department view that a "quasi state of war" exists between the United States and Communist China. Although Herter did not elaborate on that point, a State Department spokesman in Washington pointed out that the Korean War has not been officially ended with a peace settlement.

Herter also told the group their passports would be forfeited if they go to Communist China. American passport regulations bar travel to all countries which the United States does not recognize.

Laman Wins N. Little Rock Maror's Post

By The Associated Press

William F. (Casey) Laman, a furniture dealer, has won the Democratic nomination for mayor of North Little Rock over City Attorney Reed Thompson.

Laman polled 3,874 votes to Thompson's 3,436 in yesterday's primary.

Mayoral elections also were held at Fayetteville, Conway, Malvern and Searcy.

A runoff Democratic primary for mayor of Van Buren was scheduled but none was held because one candidate withdrew from the race.

Here are the unofficial results of these elections:

MALVERN — Gerald Percival got 807 votes to defeat incumbent Lester L. Pace, who received 817.

FAYETTEVILLE — J. Austin Parish with 882 votes won over Roy Scott who got 335.

CONWAY — Edgar B. Parker polled 957 votes to defeat incumbent M. M. Satterfield who received 938.

SEARCY — B. H. Lacey polled 817 votes to 248 for City Attorney Van Chapman.

Allen Toohacker, an auto salesman, will take over as mayor of Van Buren after incumbent Burton Lankford's term expires at the end of the year.

Major Lankford withdrew from the race after trailing Toohacker by 97 votes in the first primary two weeks ago.

Fire at Old Mill Purposely Set

Part of the old Heading Mill plant was being burned this morning and some nervous residents of the area called the Fire Department which knew the burning was taking place. Nevertheless, Firemen went to the site but everything was under control. There was no damage whatever and the fire was purposely set to get rid of the partially collapsed building.

Mayor Lankford withdrew from the race after trailing Toohacker by 97 votes in the first primary two weeks ago.

It was Miss Quillan who yesterday provided another bombshell in the trial when she testified she had an "affair" with Cuban band leader Desi Arnaz — a story promptly denied by Arnaz.

Miss Jacques said she twice met Harrison at the Quillan apartment when she was living with Miss Quillan between February and December of 1954.

"Mr. Harrison asked Ronnie to get stories for Confidential," Miss Jacques said under questioning by the prosecution, "which is seeking to establish that Harrison used prostitutes as 'pups' in trap stars and obtain spicy stories."

"Ronnie said she wanted to write her life story for Mr. Harrison but Harrison wanted juicer stories," she said.

During another visit, she said, Harrison and Miss Quillan discussed a movie star that he had some sort of lead on — an actress."

Manager Board Vote Extremely Light

Ballots in Hope's city manager board election will be doing real well to total as many as 200. This fact was revealed with a check of four precincts at 11:30 p.m. in which less than 100 votes had been cast.

Only issue is the board Post No. 1, sought by George Robinson and Cecil Delahey. The other candidates, Frank Douglas, Cap Young, Sam Andrews, Herbert Burns, George Frazier and Roy Thrash have no opposition. The new board will take over city affairs Monday, August 19.

Senate Seeks Action on Other Issues

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate's Democratic and Republican leaders laid out a program today for action on half a dozen major measures and adjournment of Congress next week — if the House breaks its civil rights stalemate.

Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) already has closed the door to consideration by that body of any new legislation.

Republican Leader Knowland of California said that "leaving aside civil rights" if everything goes well, we should get out of here by a week from Saturday." Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas indicated he agreed.

Despite talk of a presidential veto, Johnson said he will bring before the Senate House-passed bills to increase the pay of postal workers and government civil service employees.

He said a compromise immigration measure on which the Senate Judiciary Committee is expected to act today will be brought before the Senate, as will a revised bill to limit the availability of FBI files to defendants in federal court cases.

Johnson said the Senate will act on a bill authorizing appropriations for the Atomic Energy Commission. This measure is involved in a controversy over whether there should be a government program of construction of atomic reactors, a program opposed by the administration and rejected by the House.

El Dorado Gets a Poultry Plant

EL DORADO (UPI) — Construction will start immediately here for a $75,000 poultry by-products plant.

Plans for the industry were revealed yesterday by Lee Zachary, executive director of the Greater El Dorado Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The plant will use by-products of the J. M. Poultry plant of El Dorado to produce hydrolyzed feather meal and poultry fat, two poultry by-products used primarily by feed mills.

William D. Brown, president of an El Dorado firm which owns the J. M. company, is building the new plant.

The industry will employ eight persons at the start and will have a bill to providing 10 million dollars government indemnity to cover possible damage from the explosion of any atomic reactor.

Johnson and Knowland agreed that the Senate will act finally on foreign aid appropriation and a supplemental money bill to clean up that field.

Knowland agreed generally with the list of legislation Johnson laid down. The Republican leader said he doubts the Senate will act on a bill to boost postal rates. The House passed the bill yesterday.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) told the Senate yesterday he doesn't think Eisenhower would veto the postal pay measure if it is passed.

The House approved a $540 yearly increase for postal workers. It would cost 317 million dollars yearly. The House also voted an 11 per cent increase for civil service employees, costing 530 million dollars yearly. The Senate has not acted on either.

an annual payroll of about $80,000. Brown said the 5,000-square-foot plant Development Corp. and be built for the plant would be leased to the firm on a 10-year purchase plan.

Tassos has two other tips for the average swimmer.

"Stay close to shore. The fish in deep water are hungry and more likely to attack. Don't venture into deep water unless you carry a spear and have one or more other spearmen with you for mutual protection."

"If your gash yourself accidentally under water, get out immediately. Blood frenzies the big fish."

Tassos regards the shark as far more dangerous than the barracuda.

"Lifeguards on the Florida beaches every day see inquisitive barracuda hovering a few yards from swimmers," he said, "but I know of no authenticated case where a barracuda actually attacked a bather in those areas."

"But any shark, even a two-foot one, may attack if angered. You can't grab even a baby one by the tail!"

However, it is possible to ride a shark bareback and come home alive. Tassos is one of a number of veteran skin drivers who enjoy this hobby, now limited to the Bahamas.

"It is a fr-fetched sport," he admitted. "You get half a dozen spearmen to stand by for protection. Then you go up to a nurse shark, which is pretty sluggish, but may run from 6 to 14 feet long — and can be as vicious as any other variety of shark when aroused."

"You grab him by the dorsal fins just aft of his gills, leap on his back and lock your legs around his body in a scissors hold. You can get a good grip because his skin is sandpaper, not silty."

"By holding his dorsal fins you can keep him from turning his head and biting off your leg. Then a railroad bridge over a flood ditch gave way. The derailment occurred near Gainesville, a few miles north of here."

The accident occurred on Mo-Pac's freight line between Memphis and Knobler, Ark., not the main line between Little Rock and St. Louis.

Railroad officials were hopeful that normal rail traffic could be resumed in the afternoon.

Adam Carpenter, who operates a drug company in Marmaduke, said that merchants started sandbagging store fronts this morning and routing residents out of bed when the water started rising and several families were evacuated by boat. Carpenter said that it was the first time in his memory that the downtown area of Marmaduke flooded.

The water reached a depth of 5 inches in Carpenter's store.

At Lake, west of Paragould, Mrs. C. E. Wren said that six inches of water seeped into the store she operates. Water also seeped into several houses and into the Lake High School gymnasium.

There were no estimates of property damage.

Damage ran into the thousands of dollars in northwest Arkansas yesterday when flash floods hit several cities. Two deaths occurred during the turbulent weather.

Woman Striker, Company Agree

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Kirby Packing Co. and Miss Mary Ann Unnerstall, a determined young woman, made peace yesterday as pickets put down their placards and marched away.

A week ago Miss Unnerstall went on a one-woman strike, contending she was discharged as an office clerk because of her union activities. A picket line of 1,000 members of Local 545 of the Butchers, Sausage Makers and Packinghouse Workers Union soon shut the plant down.

Key announced yesterday Miss Unnerstall will return to work as a plant clerk.

The company contended the difficulty arose because Miss Unnerstall had announced she would quit Sept. 1, but asked for her job back after a replacement was hired.

Returns to Hollywood After 10 Years

By BOB THOMAS

He had left Europe at the height of his career but Hollywood gave him nothing to do but play a bespectacled scholar in "Little Women."

Today Rossano Brazzi is back for one of the prime roles of any year—the lead in "South Pacific." What happened to him during the 10 years?

"I had to go back and build my career all over again," he confessed. "When I returned to Italy they all said that I had failed in America. So I went back to the stage. Always when I am in trouble, I return to the stage. I did O'Neill's "Strange Interlude" and botheled in an 8-hour period end in gearly today.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brittingham, each 70, drowned yesterday when a flash flood swept away their small house near Morriston.

The house was snatched up by flood waters of Cypress Creek which overflowed its banks as a result of a torrential downpour.

No other deaths or injuries were reported from flash floods that inundated Russellville, Clinton, Perry, Atkins, Clarksville, Heber Springs and the Morriston area.

Russellville caught nearly 10 inches of rain and readings of six inches or more in other affected areas were typical.

Rep. Brooks Hays of Little Rock yesterday asked the Army Engineers at Washington if a survey of the Russellville area could be made for the purpose of preventing future floods.

"It is in a very bad way," he signed. "We used to make 160 films a year. Last year we made 30."

"The trouble is that 30 percent of the producers have aimed only at the commercial market. Their pictures appeal only at the Italian market; some appeal only to Rome and to the north."

"On the other side are the artistic film makers. Like (Vittorio) de Sica. His pictures are phony. He dwells only on the poverty side of Italy and gives a false picture of the country. After 'Bicycle Thief,' I had foreigners ask me, 'Do you not have bathrooms in Italy?'

"Yes, his pictures make money in the art houses of the United States but I wonder how they play in Texas and Arizona...."

STAMPEDE AT BLUE SPRINGS

CHAPTER XXVI

It was a long afternoon and hot and dusty but it passed. The moon came and it lay on its back like a slice of melon. That meant frost coming, homesteader folks would say, bend with the frost came the buffaloes.

While I waited for dark to settle in, the first flock of ducks heading south for the winter passed low over the east side of town, pointing straight across the moon-bright sky.

I got up "and went out" into Depot St. It was as dark as it would get with the moon climbing. I wanted to go out to The Rock for a while but I decided not to go. I thought Blanchard might need me.

A man walked west on Depot St. toward the livery. He got won the prize for acting that year."

His film career revived in Europe. But the real turning point was "Three Coins In The Fountain," which brought him international acclaim. He followed with "The Barefoot Contessa," "Summertime" and the unreleased "Interlude," "Golden Virgin" and "Legend Of The Lost."

The actor said he was excited about the "South Pacific" script—one of the few he really has liked.

Brazzi talks Italian-style—with gusto and hands. He is refreshingly frank, even about matters that could get him in trouble at home. Such as the state of the Italian film industry.

"It is in a very bad way," he signed. "We used to make 160 films a year. Last year we made 30."

"The trouble is that 30 percent of the producers have aimed only at the commercial market. Their pictures appeal only at the Italian market; some appeal only to Rome and to the north."

"Yes, his pictures make money in the art houses of the United States but I wonder how they play in Texas and Arizona...."

In gearly today.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brittingham, each 70, drowned yesterday when a flash flood swept away their small house near Morriston.

The house was snatched up by flood waters of Cypress Creek which overflowed its banks as a result of a torrential downpour.

No other deaths or injuries were reported from flash floods that inundated Russellville, Clinton, Perry, Atkins, Clarksville, Heber Springs and the Morriston area.

Russellville caught nearly 10 inches of rain and readings of six inches or more in other affected areas were typical.

Rep. Brooks Hays of Little Rock yesterday asked the Army Engineers at Washington if a survey of the Russellville area could be made for the purpose of preventing future floods.

"It is in a very bad way," he signed. "We used to make 160 films a year. Last year we made 30."

"The trouble is that 30 percent of the producers have aimed only at the commercial market. Their pictures appeal only at the Italian market; some appeal only to Rome and to the north."

The highest mountain on the moon is estimated to be 33,000 feet high.

Not good reasons for what you're doing."

"All I'm doing, Mr. Peterson, is sitting. Just sitting and listening to our talk."

Peterson bit his lips. Red went up around his ears and sweat came out on his face. I tried to keep from grinning.

He said, "You know what I mean. Well . . . maybe you didn't realize when you got started that it would go like it has. All this trouble. You got to remember, Pike, you're part of this town. You're from Blue Springs."

"By golly. Never thought you'd admit that, Mr. Peterson."

"Pike, do you care what happens to this town? Or don't you?"

I got up slow. I had to say it.

I knew I might never get the chance again. "Mr. Peterson," I said, "I might never get the chance again. What I'd like to do to this town is stand it up on end and throw buffalo chips at it."

Peterson said, "Nice evening."

I nodded. "Owen's home eating supper."

"Good." Peterson took out a pipe and tapped it against the heel of his shiny shoe. "Pike, it's time we had a little talk."

I squirmed. I couldn't remember any comfortable talk I'd ever had with Peterson. "What about?"

"About your marshal friend."

I got up. "Maybe you better talk to him."

"No. No. Sit down. You see, Pike . . . well, a man sometimes has to change his mind. He has to be ready to, anyway. You'll learn that, once you get older."

I let myself back into the chair.

I thought I might enjoy this particular little talk after all. Peterson waited, then said, "Now,

We've had our differences, no mistake. That trouble we had with Dora. Maybe those things happen and . . . well, maybe they don't mean as much as they seem like they do, right at the time,

I mean."

I settled back.

Peterson said, "Well. Don't you . . . isn't there something you want to say?"

"Maybe," I said. "But nobody listens to me."

Peterson cleared his throat. Red crawled up his neck. "Been thinking, Pike. Maybe this town hasn't done right by you. Maybe you've done wrong by it."

When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain, you feel relief — which is fine. And when you feel a mild headache irritation following wrong food and drink — often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.

For quiet relief take Don't-n-Pills. They work quickly, too. And, 1. by simply pain-relieving action to ease torment of ringing bells, headache, muscular aches and pains. 2. by their another effect on blood vessels, 3. by their mild diuretic action tending to cause output of kidneys.

European TV Fans Yearn for More

By WILLIAM GLOVER
COPENHAGEN (AP) — The European television fan is a slightly apoplectic guy with a burling yen for cartoon commercials, late shows and six channels going full blast.

He yearns across the sea for the exotic things he has heard are on those fabulous networks between New York and Los Angeles.

The Dane, Swede, Dutchman, Frenchman and all the rest respond in identical mood when the American visitor asks what is doing on the megacycles.

Cables informally quizzed.

"We are at the beginning" is the consensus comment of 9 out of 10 advertising is allowed."

The 10th interviewee will be an Englishman who is already learning to exist amid competitive, commercial telecasting and Nielson top 10 ratings. After all, didn't England survive the blitz, old boy?

There is, of course, some reason for the kid at the candy window attitude. One channel viewing and state controlled programming have certain limitations, like a diet of dried apples.

There is also a matter of how many hours a week the fan gets for his annual fee to the state for owning a set. The amount of air time seems to diminish as you go north.

France, for example, puts on shows for 30 hours a week during the summer; 50 hours in the winter.

In Holland, the kiddies get two half-hour shows a week and the air goes completely blank for everybody each Friday.

In Denmark, the station is on the air about two hours a day.

In Sweden, the whole shebang shuts down for the entire month of July.

Ireland has it better or worse, depending on your point of view, than the rest of Western Europe. Video has yet to come to Eire.

Despite the death of video variety — a situation roughly comparable to American telecasting in the early 40s — there is an unmistakable public avidity for the little black box in the corner.

Generally, a good-sized table set retails on the Continent for around $300.

On the technical side, things are also different from Yankee land.

A scanning system which creates a somewhat sharper and more brightly defined picture is generally used, camera work on live shows is simpler and perhaps because of limited budgets fewer actors and dancers jam onto the screen. The directional pace is more leisurely — after all, another sponsor won't push you off the air at precisely 8:30.

What's to be seen is pretty standardized: Stations usually go on the air about 7:30 with news, followed by a variety show or old film, there's nothing quite like an American film with Dutch subtitles and some music, popular or classic depending on the night and where you are.

By 11 p.m., the real life Continental has nothing more to see and there's no family argument about turning off the set. Very soothing.

Besides the domestic programs, there is one international network, Eurovision which links up subscribing nations for sports events, political conclaves and the pomp and circumstance of royalty.

MARY, Queen of Scots, was proclaimed queen before she was one week old.

The acreage of forest land in Russia is more than 44 percent of the country's total area.

MALVERN (AP) — Willie Lee Taylor, a 15-year-old Negro boy, was injured fatally near here yesterday when struck by a car while riding his bicycle. The boy lived with his grandmother here.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Community Facilities Administration yesterday approved a $325,000 federal loan for construction of a dormitory housing 116 male students at Arkansas State Teachers College in Conway.

PINE BLUFF (AP) — More than 2,000 Masons of the Prince Hall Grand Lodge of Arkansas opened a 2-day meeting here today. It is their 65th annual assembly.

Mexico's oil resources were taken over by the Mexican government in March, 1938.
